SCHOOLS ARE NOW OPEN

THEY BEGAN THE FALL AND WINTER TERM IN SEDALIA THIS MORNING.

GREAT YEAR'S WORK ANTICIPATED

Delay in Opening at Pacific Heights—The New $20,000 Building of Sacred Heart School Is Also Opened.

The city schools were opened this morning, after the summer vacation, and the outlook was never better for a successful school year.

The only school that did not open was Pacific Heights, in the eastern suburbs, a new school of two rooms, with Miss Effie Norton as principal and Miss Helen McGinley as teacher. The finishing touches are expected to be completed on this school in time for the opening the latter part of the week.

During the past week each and every school building in the city was thoroughly cleansed and fumigated, and if disease germs existed, which is not likely, they are now things of the past.

The attendance at the opening this morning was highly gratifying, but it is never as large the first day of the term as it is later in the week.

The enrollment in the different schools as reported to Supt. Buchanan follows:

|                      |      |
|----------------------|------|
| High school          | 218  |
| Summit               | 351  |
| Lincoln              | 300  |
| Southeast            | 229  |
| Franklin             | 104  |
| Southwest            | 124  |
| East Sedalia Primary | 99   |
| Northeast            | 95   |
| Broadway             | 608  |
| Prospect             | 332  |
| Total                | 2542 |

Supt. Buchanan stated this afternoon that the enrollment was about the same as on the opening day last year, except Summit school, which is smaller.

There was the usual hustle and bustle incident to the opening this morning, owing to transfers from one grade to another, but the little kids will be straightened out in a day or two, and a great school year can be confidently anticipated.

In the various grades the teachers provided the pupils with a list of the books and supplies that were required for the work in hand, after which the children were dismissed until afternoon, the High school alone excepted, it dismissing for the day. In the meantime the book dealers and their largely increased staff of clerks were kept on the hop, step and jump, as it were, waiting on the trade.

New School Is Opened.

The new school building of Sacred Heart parish, just completed at a cost of $20,000, and which was written of in detail in the Democrat-Sentinel a few days ago, was opened for the fall and winter term this morning, but will not be dedicated until Sunday, the 22d inst., Bishop Lillis, of the Leavenworth diocese, conducting the ceremonies.

The total enrollment of the school is about 175, but accommodations are provided in the new building for 200 pupils, which can be increased to 250 when desired.

There are two grades in each room, in charge of the following teachers: Nos. 1 and 2—Sister Ursula. Nos. 3 and 4—Sister Euphrasia. Nos. 5 and 6—Sister Alma. Nos. 7 and 8—Sister Rosella.

The school starts out under truly auspicious circumstances, and too much credit cannot be bestowed upon the Rev. Fr. Neiberg, the head, and his assistants, Rev. Fr. Christian Daniel and Rudolph Stoltz, and the Sisters of the Order of the Most Precious Blood for their splendid work in the premises.

Prof. O. D. Noble, of Hill's Business college, kindly donated the combination gas and electric fixtures for the new school, for which he has the thanks of the entire parish.

A new billiard table for the billiard room was donated by Messrs. E. G. Cassidy and W. J. Riley and was delivered today. A second table is to be installed later, the donors being L. H. Archias and Wm. Boland.

A bowling alley is to be put in at an early date, and the building is to be heated with city steam heat.

St. Joseph's Academy, on East

Fourth street, was opened last Tuesday, under the supervision of the Rev. Fr. B. McNamie and the Sisters of St. Joseph, and the Democrat-Sentinel is pleased to know that a highly successful school year is promised.

Falling Off of Cotton.
Washington, Sept. 6.—The census bureau bulletin issued this morning from the cotton ginners shows the total crop of cotton up to September 1 is 191,416 bales, compared with 407,51 bales up to the same period last year. The falling off is attributed to the lateness of the crop.

Death of an Infant.
A week-old child of Ambrose Williams, of Beaman, died at its parents' home this morning and was buried this afternoon.

PAID THE LAST TRIBUTE

BURIAL OF MR. WILLIAM ANDERSON AT LONGWOOD SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

REV. D. M. CLAGETT OFFICIATED

Attendance Was the Largest of Any Funeral Ever Held in This Section—The Church and Yard Were Both Filled.

Funeral services over the remains of William Anderson, who died at his home, two miles east of Longwood, Saturday evening, were held in the Presbyterian church in Longwood at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. D. M. Clagett, of Sedalia, officiating, assisted by the Rev. T. H. Watkins. The attendance of neighbors and friends was larger than at any funeral previously held in that church, attesting the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the people of the county where he was known, quite a good number going out from Sedalia.

The church building, which is a large one, would not accommodate one-third of those who attended, and the large yard surrounding was filled with sorrowing friends assembled to pay the last mark of respect to a highly respected citizen.

The music was led by Miss Helen Lower, while her sister, Miss Corinne Lower, presided at the organ, and the choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Rock of Ages" and other selections.

The floral offerings were numerous, completely covering the casket.

After the services were concluded the remains were laid to rest in the Longwood cemetery, the following friends of the family serving as pallbearers: N. T. Elmore, Mack Pile, Clem Jones, Charles Kelley, Walter Pile and Robert Jenkins.

INSPECTED WATER PLANT

And Well May We Say, "What Does the Council Know About It?"

A committee of the city council, at the request of the council and Mayor Collins, visited the water works plant and pumping station Sunday to ascertain if the company was living up to its contract with the city relative to having the required equipment.

A member of the committee was seen by a representative of this paper today and was asked what was discovered. The reply was, "What does the committee know about the water works?"

The "Y" connection for the principal water main leading to town is expected to be here this week.

TEARING UP THE TRACK

Forest Park Line Will Soon Be a Thing of the Past.

Workmen this afternoon began tearing up the Forest park car line at Twenty-fourth and Ohio streets, and it will be torn up to Sixteenth street.

The line has never paid, Supt. Hamner says, hence the order from the owners to abandon it.

When the task is completed the Forest park line will be a reminiscence only. Instead the Grand avenue cars will be run on a 20-minute schedule in future.

This afternoon workmen began extending the East Third street line across the M. & T. tracks, and the loop to the Missouri Pacific shops will soon be completed.

HE WED SNAKE CHARMER

THE REV. JOHN D. ANDREWS, FORMERLY OF MONROE CITY, MISSOURI.

IS NOW TRAVELING WITH A CIRCUS

Pays a Visit to His Former Home and Took His Wife to See the Dwelling Where He Resided While Preaching the Gospel.

Monroe City, Mo., Sept. 9.—The strange life story of the Rev. John D. Andrews, twenty years ago one of the most eloquent revivalists in Missouri, who returned last week to Monroe City, where he was pastor of the First Baptist church, as a snake charmer and ticket seller for a circus and the husband of a snake charmer, finds a parallel in both drama and fiction.

A strange sight it was to members of his old congregation at Monroe City to behold their once dignified pastor, whom fate had brought back to them, two decades before handsome, brilliant, moral and home-loving, now crying reserved seats at the entrance to the big tent.

Before the circus began, Andrews came out the swinging doors of a saloon as an attendant at his former church was passing. The circus attendant had shaved his mustache, he had changed much in twenty years, but there was something about his walk and manner that seemed familiar.

"Are you not Mr. Andrews?" he was asked.

The showman admitted his identity and soon the whole town knew of his arrival. Many of his former congregation, including several women, called at the tent.

Andrews had lost none of his wonted dignity and good manners.

"I regret, of course, that I am known, but I am glad to see you."

"Do you like the circus better than the ministry?" a member of his old congregation asked him.

"My boy, don't ask me such an unfair question," was the reply, accompanied by a smile that was devoid of levity.

Answering another query as to his "expectation of eternal salvation," Andrews said, "I still have some hope."

"Why, I'm not all bad just because I'm with this circus. Can you not be more charitable?" he said to one woman who rebuked him. "You are prone to estimate me simply by comparison with myself at different periods. Of course, I've done wrong. I've gambled and all that, I drink now, but I quit gambling several years ago. Every penny that I now earn is an honest penny. I work hard for it—and it is mine."

There was no one in Monroe City who could explain the impulse that prompted Andrews to take his snake charmer wife to view the pretty cottage in which he and his divorced wife and children lived happily when he was a minister. What were his emotions as they stood before the cottage, he did not tell; what he said to his wife standing at his side none other heard.

It was in 1886 that the Rev. John D. Andrews came to Missouri from South Carolina, seeking a pastorate. He brought many recommendations. Two citizens of Monroe City in Paris, Mo., on business, heard the eloquent minister in a revival, at which thirty-five persons were converted.

He was invited to preach at the First Baptist church, of Monroe City, whose pulpit was then vacant. The congregation was well pleased with the sermon and the manners of the preacher. He was unanimously called to the pastorate. For two years he was pastor of the church and resigned to accept a larger charge at Butler, Mont.

In a short time the citizens of Monroe City heard that he had quit the ministry. This news occasioned gossip for a short time, and then he was almost forgotten until he came with the circus two decades later.

Andrews dealt faro bank in Butler, "trooped" with small theatrical organizations, went to Africa with wild animal hunters, roamed over Europe and Asia and at last joined a circus.

"It's all my fault that my wife left me," he said. "I've been told that she is running a boarding house some where in Iowa. Three of my children are dead. A daughter, Undine, is on the stage; another, Velma, is teaching school; John, my eldest son, is prospering in business. They're all better than me, and I rejoice at their success. Maybe I'll be better, though I am honest now, some day—who knows?"

Conference Meets Tomorrow.

The thirty-seventh annual session of the Southwest Missouri conference Methodist Episcopal church, South, is to be held in the church in Independence, beginning tomorrow and continuing until noon next Monday. Bishop Joseph S. Key, of Sherman, Texas, will be the presiding officer.

Mrs. Logan Very Ill

Mrs. John A. Logan, of 505 West Fourth street, is critically ill at her home, and unless there is a change for the better it is feared she cannot live more than a day or two.

BERT SHANER DID WELL

FORMER SEDALIA PITCHER ALLOWED ONLY ONE HIT IN TWELVE INNINGS.

HE'S A GENTLEMANLY PLAYER, TOO

Western Association Twirler Has Made Record That Might Be Emulated by Ambitious Aspirants for Diamond Honors

With Bert Shaner, a former Sedalia pitcher in the box at Leavenworth last Saturday, Leavenworth obtained but one hit in the whole twelve innings and lost to Webb City after a hard contest, 2 to 1. The only semblance of a safe hit came in the tenth, when Fisher beat out an infield ball.

Webb City made the winning run on a pass, an error and a single. The Ducklings made eight hits off Ashley.

The feature of the game was the pitching of Shaner, which has probably never before been duplicated in the Western association. He did not allow a base on balls.

Bert Shaner is a native of Lost Springs, Kan., near Topeka. In 1903, after becoming something of a local celebrity at the Lindsborg college in Kansas, he signed as a member of the Oklahoma City team in the Western association and was afterwards traded to Sedalia. He went with the rest of the players by transfer of the franchise from Sedalia to Webb City in 1905.

During all of the 1906 season he was in ill health, suffering from malarial troubles, which afterwards developed into typhoid fever, and he was not in condition for playing at any time during the summer. He did not pitch after July 4 of that year, his last game being played and won while he was suffering from fever at Springfield.

This year he has been in splendid shape the entire season, particularly the last two months. It is conceded by baseball experts that he has what is called "everything in the calendar." That is, he has great speed, a good delivery, all kinds of curves and has become a master of the famous spit ball, which only the most skillful pitchers can use successfully.

It has been a rare occasion when the opposing team has been able to get more than four or five hits from his delivery in a game when he was at his best.

Personally, Bert Shaner is most gentlemanly in his bearing both on and off the ball field. His general conduct and behavior is of the kind that makes his associations with both managers and players exceedingly pleasant. He has had the advantage of a college education. His habits are of the best. He has always proved a willing worker, taking any position in the field when emergency makes it necessary, and giving the best he had to win out in uphill games.

EMBASSY HAS INTERFERED

Asks French Government to Revoke Its Order of Expulsion.

Paris, Sept. 9.—The American embassy here has formally requested the French government to revoke its order of expulsion against James Winslow, of New York, who recently was given notice to leave France for alleged violation of the gambling laws.

Will Not Meet Until Next Month

The Ladies' Musical club, Sorosis club and Clio club will not hold a meeting until the second week of October, after the state fair.

WILL NOT BE A STRIKE

MISSOURI PACIFIC CAME TO TERMS OF GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE.

CAN'T MONKEY WITH ENGINEERS

Latter Insisted That Old Contract Be Renewed, and in Case of Refusal General Walkout Was Promised.

Kansas City, Sept. 9.—A telegram received here today from A. W. Sullivan, general manager of the Missouri Pacific system, puts an end to the prospect of a strike of the engineers of the system which has been seriously considered.

The telegram is to the effect that the company has yielded to the demands of the men on the point at issue, and the contract, allowing the engineers to turn their engines over to hostlers at the end of their runs, will be signed.

What the Engineers Wanted.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 9.—The differences between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Missouri Pacific railroad, which may result in a strike of the 3,000 engineers employed on the system, were explained from the standpoint of the employees by a Missouri Pacific engineer who lives on the West Side.

"The engineers are asking for nothing they have not had for the last twenty years," he said. "In that time a contract has been signed by the engineers and the company every two years and we have always worked under it."

"Several months ago our board of adjustment met in St. Louis to renew this contract. M. W. Cadle, of Sedalia, Mo., first assistant grand chief engineer, was told by the company that no such contract was in existence."

"The company then asked the engineers to sign a new contract, which is different in several respects from the old one."

"For twenty years the company has allowed engineers coming in from their runs to turn their engines over to hostlers to be taken to the roundhouse."

"The new contract requires the engineers to take their engines to the roundhouse themselves and allows them an additional mile on the run at 4 cents a mile."

"To get the engine into the roundhouse requires all the way from a half hour to five hours. Some of the runs are sixteen hours long and an engineer is pretty tired when he gets in."

"In Omaha, for instance, the roundhouse is three miles from the terminus. Yet under the new contract the engineers would only be allowed one mile for making the trip. All the engineers want is to have the old contract renewed."

A vote on the question of calling a strike is now being taken.

A Helper Lost $30.

A gentleman who does not care for any newspaper notoriety lost his coat and $30 in cash at the East Sixth street fire last Friday afternoon. He pulled off his coat, containing the money, to assist in carrying goods from the Scott home, and when he went after the garment, a few minutes later, it had disappeared, together with the money.

Barkeepers Met Sunday.

At Sunday's meeting of the Barkeepers, Ed Mathews, caterer at the Huckins bar, applied for membership, and Will Brown, caterer for Eddie McGurran, was elected delegate to represent the union at the Federation of Labor.

OVER $6000 WAS TAKEN

THE VAULT OF A BREWING COMPANY IN KANSAS CITY WAS ROBBED.

THERE'S NO CLUE TO THE THIEVES

Inference Is It Was Done by Thieves Familiar With Strong Box, as No Explosives or Burglar Tools Were Used.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 9.—A cash grip containing $6,028 in currency and checks was stolen from the office of the Schoenhofen Brewing company, 2100 Wyandotte, sometime between 7:30 o'clock Saturday night and 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The grip with money was placed on a shelf in the vault about 7:30 o'clock Saturday night by W. J. Fapp, a collector for the company. Two bookkeepers, Mr. Fapp and John A. Adams, the company's agent for Kansas City, were in the office until about midnight.

The vault was closed and locked, as were the doors of the office. The robbery was discovered by Mr. Fapp when he went to count over the money and stamp the checks.

The vault and everything in the office was just as it had been left the night before, but the grip with the money was gone.

The person taking the property either walked in while the men were working the night before and carried away the grip under their noses, or it was done by some one with keys to the office and who knew the combination to the vault.

WILL CARE FOR VISITORS

The married ladies of Sacred Heart church will meet at the school hall on Third street next Thursday afternoon to arrange for taking part and entertaining the visitors at the dedication of the new school building at Third and Vermont avenues on Sunday, September 22.

Extensive arrangements are being made for the dedication services on the 22d. Solemn high mass will be celebrated by Bishop Lillis, of the Leavenworth, Kas. diocese, during which services Bishop Lillis will confirm a class of candidates from this city, Cole Camp, Lake Creek, Clinton City and other towns in this vicinity.

At the close of the services the dedication services at the school building will begin, under the direction of the bishop. At the noon hour dinner will be served and refreshments will also be served during the afternoon and at supper time.

After the supper hour the entertainment hall will be thrown open and Bishop Lillis will lecture on "Education."

ESCAPED FROM DEATH

Rock Island Train Going 45 Miles an Hour Left Track.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 9.—Rock Island train No. 4, for Chicago, was derailed at Escondido, New Mexico, last night, and six cars were turned over. The train was running 45 miles an hour, when a brake beam fell to the track.

None was seriously injured, but nearly every passenger was slightly hurt.

TEACHER GOT MARRIED

AFTER SHE HAD SIGNED A CONTRACT TO TEACH IN JOPLIN SCHOOLS.

CASE OF MRS. G. C. ARMSTRONG

It Puzzled the Board of Education, Who Are Averse to Married Women Teaching in the Public Schools.

Although the Joplin board of education at a meeting a month ago unanimously decided to request the resignation of Mrs. Georgia Condit Armstrong, whom it had employed as a teacher of the Joplin schools for the coming year and Secretary L. N. Threlkeld, of the board, immediately forwarded a letter with the request to Mrs. Armstrong, she has not yet sent in the resignation required, says Sunday's Joplin Globe.

The board is strongly in favor of the employment of unmarried teachers only and decided upon its action when it became known that Mrs. Armstrong had married after signing her contract in June to teach in the schools.

In a letter to the board after her marriage she informed the board that although she had married she was anxious to teach the coming year and fulfill her contract. She stated that she would be on hand at the opening of school.

Whether Mrs. Armstrong has simply ignored the request to resign or intends to teach anyway is not known. Another request will be sent her by Secretary Threlkeld this week.

After a short discussion as to what course the board should pursue it was immediately decided to request her resignation, every one of the six members voting for the proposition. Mrs. Armstrong was then notified.

The members of the board are now considerably puzzled since no answer has been received, and are at a loss as to what steps will be taken now. This week all the teachers are required to file their certificates with the secretary of the board and have their contracts signed by the president and secretary of the board.

Just what will be done in case Mrs. Armstrong appears this week ready to have her contract signed in preparation to teach next Monday is not known. Secretary Threlkeld stated yesterday that he did not think the board would have any recourse except to allow her to teach in case she appears, as the contract has been signed by her.

He says there is no clause in the contract by which she would forfeit her right to teach because she got married after it was signed. The successor to Mrs. Armstrong has already been appointed. She was a successful teacher here last year. Her home is in Lamar.

BURIED ON THE SABBATH

The Funeral of Mrs. Corinne Edwards Sunday Afternoon.

A goodly number of sorrowing friends joined the relatives of the late Mrs. Corinne Edwards in paying the last tribute to the beloved dead at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Payne, Fourth and Monticane streets, Sunday afternoon.

The burial service was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Caskey. Mrs. Harvey MacGugin had charge of the music, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Lou Menefee. The selections sung were: "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Abide With Me."

There were numerous beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in the city cemetery, the following friends serving as pallbearers: Peter Kuhn, J. M. Dohel, E. B. Lyon, L. F. Ritchie, Edward Gorrell and Edward McCoy.

Child Found Dead in Bed.

The one-month old child of Sam Jackson, a Houstonia negro, and wife, was found dead in bed this morning. The supposition is that one of the parents rolled on the child, unintentionally during the night and smothered it.

Audience Well Pleased.

A very fair attendance witnessed Billy Kersands' minstrels at the Sedalia theatre last night, and, judging from the applause, they appreciated the entertainment.

CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

The announcement from New York that the vertical system of handwriting, as taught in the schools, is to be superseded by the "free arm" movement, is a welcome as well as a wholesome improvement in the educational world. The so-called vertical style was never anything else but a fad, seized upon by persons calling themselves reformists, and successfully exploited in the schools before the public fully realized the change that had taken place. It was designed to secure "pretty" handwriting, and is still generally affected in polite society by women for carrying on weighty affairs of entertainments and courtships. While most women have contented themselves with using the orthodox form, some exaggerations of the craze have been attempted which drive mail clerks to distraction, and awed the ignorant with delusions of a correspondence conducted in a foreign language.

Cramped, precise and uniform, the vertical is essentially a feminine hand, but wholly unsuited to the tastes of men and the requirements of the business and commercial world. It really has not one point to commend it as a practical form of penmanship, and its introduction into the schools has lowered the standard of handwriting all over the country. There is but one sensible and satisfactory method of writing where penmanship is to be turned to useful account, and that is the whole arm movement. It gives the maximum of speed and legibility. It is the perfect form for bookkeeping, correspondence, records, and, in fact, any purpose for which the pen may be used. The writer is in perfect control of his instrument, and he speedily learns to employ it mechanically, swiftly, and what is of very great importance, tirelessly.

Finger writing is an abomination of penmanship which has been taught in some schools almost since their foundation. It has been responsible for more wretched writing than any other one cause. The truth is that only rarely has scientific, helpful instruction in penmanship been a feature of school training. For many years it was the neglected, misunderstood pastime of the day's routine. Only within recent years has there been any attempt to teach writing seriously and practically in the schools, and then, unfortunately, it was swallowed up in the craze for the vertical art.

It is time this freakish vogue was discarded throughout the country as well as in New York. It ought to be abolished in all public schools.

PROSPERITY WITHSTANDS PESSIMISTS.

There is still talk among financial and industrial leaders of impending disaster. During the past few weeks it has been heightened by the scarcity of money. But in a general way it is the discussion of agitators and has little or no effect upon commercial affairs. There has come to exist a set of chronic agitators in the business world, similar in their complaints and methods to social disturbers, who are constantly crying out against the government and the tendency of the times and predicting panics and all sorts of calamities.

The country does not take these men seriously any more. It has listened to their howls so long that they have ceased to create apprehension.

Most of them nowadays are men discredited by investigations or by prosecutions by the government and with a personal grievance to satisfy. Their toes have been stepped upon in the great national movement to elevate business standards, and they are crying out in vain against the march of progress which is ultimately to eliminate them along with their illegitimate and unlawful practices. So it happens that their scream of "wolf" is unheeded and the country, mindful only of what it sees with its eyes, refuses to be stampeded into a panic in the midst of prosperity.

Nowhere, outside of the warnings of these hysterical pessimists, is there any evidence of trouble or recession. There is absolutely not one sign of panicky conditions. Possibly business has grown a little faster than capital could take care of it, but every staple product has a firm market and demand is still in advance of supply.

The present tightness of money is due principally to heavy loans for vast business undertakings, railroad improvement and movement of the crops. So long as there is no industrial or agricultural setback there will be plenty of money to finance manufacturing and commerce. The stringency today is felt chiefly in the great financial centers, where the bulk of great monetary transactions concentrate. Country banks and local industry are not hard up for funds. And whatever premiums may have to be made for loans is not due to withdrawal of money from business channels, but merely to the fact that it is already absorbed in healthy and sound enterprises.

Crops are good all over the country. The continued prosperity of the farmer is assured. The net profits of all the railroads in the United States in 1906, the year of 2-cent fare legislation and government regulation, were increased more than a hundred million dollars. They are still swamped with business and must make extensive improvements. All talk about the inability to borrow money on railroad investments may be set down as absurd. Wherever traffic demands development funds will be forthcoming, if not from capitalists, then out of earnings.

The steel and iron industry will make the record output of its history this year. These are large factors in our national prosperity, in fact, so large that until they are visibly affected there can be no reversal of present conditions.

The Democrat-Sentinel's want ads. got busy again Sunday. Nearly two columns of them, and all "result bringers," too. They are the great link between buyer and seller, owner and renter, as well as an unfailing medium for the recovery of lost articles. Did you ever try one?

If Artist Earle had lived a little farther south his reception at home would probably have been an even more notable event.

Why is it that whenever a tragedy occurs in Cleveland suspicion at once turns to foul play?

The government, it appears, merely wishes to avoid the unpleasantness of giving the Chicago and Alton its immunity bath in hard water.

The Moors seem to have about the same opinion of benevolent assimilation as a civilization as the Filipinos once had.

WIPKE'S SALOON WAS 'WIDE OPEN'

Precautions Are Taken to Conceal Bottles as Soon as Emptied—Big Launch Was Kept Busy
the Entire Day.

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—Following the Sunday custom, Wipke's saloon, on the west side of Creve Coeur Lake, took off the lid yesterday and invited the thirsty ones to enter. The water on the lake was kept warm by a large launch, which made regular trips back and forth, carrying crowds to the only place at the resort that dared sell intoxicating liquors on Sunday.

Those with the dusty throats flocked into the place like herds of sheep, and not only the saloon reaped a harvest, but also the man who owns the launch. Every precaution was taken by the men who run the saloon not to be caught. Beer was served on the platform of the saloon only in bottles, and no sooner were the bottles emptied than they were put in cases by several men who stood around for the purpose.

One thing that was missing which was always seen in the place on previous Sundays was the large number of bottle caps which are generally strewn around on the floor. When a waiter opened a bottle of beer he was always careful not to drop the cap, and would take it back into the bar-room with him.

One did not have to cross the lake to find out whether the lid was off. He could stand at the top of the bluffs and watch the crowd of hilarious people who flocked from the place late in the evening when it began to get cool. Although signs were posted in conspicuous places around the saloon stating that minors were not allowed on the premises, the signs were disregarded. Boys of 16 and 17 were served soft drinks and some were even served with beer.

A large crowd of girls and women were at the place. There was dancing and music in both afternoon and evening. There was "nothing doing" at any of the other three thirst parlors at the lake. If you asked for a bottle of beer the reply was always the same at all three places, "Nothing doing; nothing but soft drinks today."

Deputy Sheriff W. D. Oldersworth got busy yesterday evening and caught a lid-lifter in his net. The victim was Dan Hoeffer, operator of a saloon on the Lemay Ferry road, just outside the city limits. Oldersworth continued dragging his net, but the word in the county passes from saloon keeper to saloon keeper at lightning speed, and before he could get to another lid it was closed down tight and bottled.

Oldersworth dropped into Hoeffer's place about 6 o'clock. A crowd numbering half a hundred sat, stood, leaned or sprawled about the place and in the wagon sheds at the rear, all imbibing of bottled beer, draught beer, mixed drinks, or "straight," and as unconcerned as though it were Saturday. Oldersworth "drifted" in and listened to conversations until approached by Hoeffer, who had just returned from dinner.

"What are you doing in here?" asked Hoeffer.

"Nothing, except to arrest you and close the place."

Then began hurried movements and the crowd scattered. With Hoeffer was arrested Henry Clemens, the bartender, after which Oldersworth closed the saloon and screwed the lid down tight. Oldersworth said last night that before he could get to the next open lid the word had passed around and everything was tight.

Following several visits of policemen to Concordia Club hall, at 1441 Chouteau avenue, Saturday night, a report was forwarded to Excise Commissioner Mulvihill regarding the place. Patrolman Berberich, Reiff and Widdin of the Central district went to the place about 10 o'clock, they reported, and found a dozen couples seated at tables drinking. When they made a second call on the place they found fourteen men and women seated at the tables.

Under the ruling of Excise Commissioner Mulvihill, saloon keepers are not allowed to serve women in their places. John W. Jackson is proprietor of the dramshop at the club.

Patrolman Maher and Herring of the Second district peeped into a basket filled with beer, which a man was carrying from a saloon at 2851 Pennsylvania avenue yesterday morning. Charles Harding, of 2850 Pennsylvania avenue, and Thomas McDonough, of 2030 Magnolia avenue,

THE TOWN IS A "HUMMER"

Oklahoma City Claims a Population of Over 40,000.

The population of Oklahoma City, as made public to the press last Saturday night, is 38,685, counting the suburban additions, or 40,496 if Capitol Hill be included, says the Oklahoma City Times-Journal.

According to the returns of the special census taken July 1, 1907, the population of Oklahoma City proper is 32,452, as compared with 10,037 in 1900, an increase of 22,415 in seven years, or 223.3 per cent.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart and stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide it. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time and of money as well. If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is scanty, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month. Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

WOMEN CALL IN DROVES

ON A ST. LOUIS GENTLEMAN WHO WANTS A WIFE ABOUT 50 YEARS OLD.

SUPPLY IS GREATER THAN DEMAND

Charles Hohne Has Only One Arm,
But He Owns Several Houses, and That Makes Up for Some Other Things.

Charles Hohne, once a member of the state legislature, better known as Senator Rohne, is doing a land-office business in a vacant store at 4152 Ashland avenue, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

He has an average of one woman visitor every 20 minutes since last Thursday, when he made public his yearnings for a wife.

Rohne is 67 years old and he thinks he ought to be able to find a helpmeet of 50, though a few years either way will not make much difference.

In a little room back of the vacant store Hohne has installed a small table and two chairs. There he receives him matrimonial applicants. Rohne several days ago appealed to Justice Werremeyer, the "marrying judge" of Clayton to find him a wife. Now he says that so many women have called upon him personally following the publication of his sketch and interview in Thursday's Post-Dispatch that he believes he will be able to make a choice without the aid of a middleman.

"It looks like I've got it cinched now," said the one-armed legislator mysteriously when a Post-Dispatch reporter called on him Friday afternoon.

"I've got a deal on and I think it's going through. You'll have to excuse me a few minutes. I've got something on."

Rohne retired to the rear room. Through the half-open door he could be seen in earnest consultation with a middle-aged woman in black. Another woman in the vacant store room was waiting for her turn to speak to him.

When the woman in black left Rohne escorted her to the front door and stood there talking for several minutes. There was a smile on his face when he came back.

"I think I've found a wife, all right," he said, "but I'm not sure. You never can tell."

Letters? Why, say, I've received about a thousand, but they're all confidential. I wouldn't let anybody see them for the world. I don't think it would be right to give them out even without the signatures.

"Women are very sensitive in these affairs of the heart, you know. I wouldn't want to do anything to shoo them away."

While the reporter was there five women called to see "that man who wants to get married." None of them was young, but all were coy and unwilling to give their names except to Rohne. This they did in whispers in the little back room.

One of the women was accompanied by her daughter, a tall, handsome brunette. They had a long conference with Rohne.

In yards and in front doorways across the street on Ashland avenue groups of women neighbors of Rohne stood watching the arrivals. As far as could be learned by casual inquiry the neighborhood verdict as to Rohne's quest for a wife is:

"It beats the band!"

By this the residents along Ashland avenue mean to convey the idea that they are surprised and that you never can tell what's going to happen.

Rohne has no present employment. His property consists of a double frame store with two suits of living rooms above and two one-story frame cottages. All of these buildings are vacant.

The "senator" says that he would like to find a wife with enough money to start a little store in one of his buildings, preferably the corner now temporarily used to receive applicants for his hand.

Rohne says he wants to marry again just because he likes married life and is lonesome.

"After a man has been married 43 years he can't go in single harness very well," he says. "My wife died of pneumonia a year and a half ago. My home here doesn't amount to anything without a wife. A housekeeper wouldn't do, either. When a man has been accustomed to having a loving companion all his life he can't get along without one."

THE TRIAL OF PETTIBONE

Case of Senator Borah Will First Be Tried at Boise, Idaho.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 9.—The state filed a motion in the district court Saturday for a continuance of the case of George Pettibone, for alleged complicity in the Steenberg murder. The case had been set for October 1.

The defense opposed the motion, but Judge Wood, although making no formal ruling, said it would be necessary to continue the case until the case of Senator Borah is concluded. The court announced that he would make a ruling Tuesday, and Attorney Hawley, of the prosecution, who is defending Senator Borah, said the government claimed it would require four weeks to try the Borah case.

EARLE IS A SCOUNDREL

SG SAYS FATHER OF THE YOUNG WIFE WHO WAS CRUELLY DISCARDED.

ARTIST IS ALSO A WIFE BEATER

M. Fichbacher, of Paris, France, Says He Congratulates Himself, as It Will End the Unhappiness of His Daughter.

Paris, Sept. 9.—M. Fichbacher, the father-in-law of Frederick Planey Earle, the New York artist, who put his wife away a few days ago to wed his affinity, gave an interview Saturday night concerning the acts of his son-in-law. M. Fichbacher is a publisher of Protestant religious books. He said:

"Knowing the fairness of the American public, I am perfectly willing to give them the real facts concerning my rascally son-in-law, who is a scoundrel of the most pronounced type. He is neither a mystic nor a madman, nor a neurasthenic. He is simply a scoundrel.

"This man Earle made my daughter's acquaintance while he was summing in Austria, where we had a holiday outing about four years ago. Earle was then about 24, and appeared to be a well bred, sympathetic young fellow. It was a case of love at first sight on his part. He courted my daughter Emilie, married her, and three months later they sailed for America.

"We were painfully surprised to learn a month later that my daughter's honeymoon had suddenly terminated in the saddest manner. Earle not only struck and kicked his wife, but even belabored her with a stick. He insulted her in the vilest manner possible. She, a perfect martyr to conjugal love, bore all this without the slightest complaint, and we should not have known of it, but for other people. When she was about to become a mother she hoped her condition would so appeal to her husband as to put an end to his brutalities, but Earle continued to mistreat her shamefully.

"Three months ago Earle's youngest brother suffered a sunstroke at Aix les Bains. When Earle received the news he took the first boat to France, leaving his wife and child in America. While at Aix les Bains he made the acquaintance of Julia Kuttner and her brother. He went with them to Florence, returning later with them to Paris. Earle introduced the Kuttners to us as his friends. The young girl visited us several times.

Shortly afterward he announced that he was leaving with the Kuttners for Britain.

"Eight days later we received the following dramatic telegram from St. Malo:

"I have found my twin soul and am living the never to be forgotten Tristan and Isolde love story. Miss Kuttner is my affinity for life."

"The following day he arrived with her at my home, but we refused to receive them. However, I wrote to him that, although his conduct was scoundrelly, I nevertheless congratulated myself, as this would end my daughter's unhappiness. Earle and the woman left immediately for New York. My daughter wrote to Earle that she would consent to a divorce, but insisted on having the custody of the child. Thanks to the French ambassador at Washington, my daughter was enabled to come to France, bringing her son with her. Immediately upon her arrival here she will ask for a divorce. This man Earle had the impudence to propose to my daughter that she live in the same house with him and with another woman."

Earle, in a signed statement last night, denied the truth of all his father-in-law's assertions.

PRESS OPERATORS RETURN

Full Service Resumed Throughout the Southwest.

The Dallas News announces that the strike of the Associated Press operators on morning papers in the southwest is practically over and that full service was inaugurated last night.

The places vacant up to yesterday were filled with old operators, those who went out when the strike was called. The Associated Press strike was serious only in the southwest, only a small percentage of operators in other sections having gone out.

There is apparently little change in the situation as regards the strike on the commercial lines. The Western Union has opened at Hillsboro.

Their food may satisfy the appetite, but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in a fit condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given help. You ought to take something that will do the work your stomach can't do. ## IS HE A BIGAMIST, TOO?

"Doc" Caldwell, the Barber, Who Deserted His Family.

Those best posted in the premises now feel confident that "Doc" Caldwell, the barber, who deserted his wife and 5-months-old daughter here August 26, has another wife living from whom he never obtained a divorce.

It is known that nearly a month ago a strange woman came to Sedalia and sought Caldwell, but for a time he kept the fact from his wife, who later knew that something was wrong with her husband. The wife knew also that there was another woman in the case, but beyond this nothing could be learned.

The belief now is that Caldwell, who had about $40 and left his wife destitute, departed in company with the woman who came here a month ago, be she wife or mistress, and the Pacific coast was their destination. The deserted wife and her infant daughter are now with her mother at Centralia, Mo.

It is also said that Caldwell's mother is a resident of Sedalia, although to his friends the son never spoke of his parents.

Most Common Proper Names.

Census returns show that the most common proper names in the world are largely the same, regardless of the country where they are found. Change in the form of pronunciation of the name does not necessarily mean a different name. In England and Wales the 15 most common names are these: Smith, Jones, Williams, Taylor, Davies, Brown, Thomas, Evans, Roberts, Johnson, Wilson, Robinson, Wright, Wood and Thompson, in the order named. In Scotland they are Smith, McDonald, Brown, Thompson, Robertson, Stewart, Campbell, Wilson, Anderson, Scott, Miller, McKenzie, Reid, Ross, McKay. In Ireland we find Murphy, Kelly, Sullivan, Walsh, Smith, O'Brien, Byrne, Connor, O'Neill, Reilly, Doyle, McCarthy, Gallagher, Doherty and Kennedy. In the United States the names differ somewhat in the different cities, but on the whole they are very similar.

MR. SELLERS WAS ANNOYED

When He Read of His Mishap in a Sedalia Newspaper.

W. P. Sellers, who runs a traction engine and separator, met with a slight accident last Friday.

He was crossing a small culvert about 5 1/2 miles north of Lamonte, when a plank in the bridge broke, letting one wheel of the engine down and breaking a casting in the front part of the engine, which cost him $5.60 to replace in Kansas City. He got the repairs and moved his outfit away.

Mr. Sellers says there was no explosion which could be heard to Lamonte, as stated in a Sedalia paper yesterday. One steam valve was broken off, which allowed the steam to escape, but without noise, and the separator was not damaged or moved from the road.

He says the accident was only one of a hundred he has met with during the season, and he was annoyed when he read the enlarged report in a Sedalia paper.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Young Farmer Found Dead in Timbered Hills of Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 9.—Because Edward Barnes, 21 years old, did not appear at the time set for his wedding, yesterday, a messenger detailed to ascertain the reason for his absence found Barnes's body in a wagon, where he had been killed by lightning while bending lumber in the hills near Biggsville, Ark.

Besides Barnes lay a 13-year-old boy, who had been assisting him in his labors. The team of horses was killed in the harness.

After locating Barnes, the messenger returned to the village to notify those awaiting the nuptials. When the party reached the scene of the young farmer's death, the boy helper was bending over Barnes and begging him to awaken.

Although rendered unconscious for sixteen hours by the bolt of lightning the boy had no recollection of the storm. He said that he believed that both Barnes and himself had fallen asleep.

NICE HAIR FOR ALL.

Once Destroy the Dandruff Germ and Hair Grows Luxuriantly.

Anyone can have nice hair if he or she has not dandruff, which causes brittle, dry hair, falling hair and baldness. To cure dandruff it is necessary to kill the germ that causes it, and that is just what Newbro's Herpicide does. Cornelius Grew, Colfax, Wash., says:

One bottle of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured me of dandruff, which was very thick; and it has stopped my hair from falling out. It makes hair soft and glossy as silk; delightful odor, and refreshing hair dressing. It permits the hair to grow abundantly, and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. ## THE CLIFF HOUSE BURNS

SAN FRANCISCO'S FAMOUS RESORT IS NOW ONLY A MEMORY.

THE SECOND TO BE DESTROYED
'TIS THE SECOND TO BE DESTROYED

Many Thousands First Saw the Pacific Ocean From Its Board Porches and Watched the Seals Disporting on Rocks.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—The famous Cliff house, San Francisco's first attraction for tourists, from whose broad porches hundreds of thousands of persons first saw the mighty waters of the Pacific, was burned to the ground Saturday evening by a fire which broke out in the building about 4:45 o'clock. An hour later a blackened heap of ruins was all that remained of the historic structure.

The house was built of wood, and, fanned by the lively ocean breeze, the flames made such headway before the nearest fire company arrived that it was realized the place was doomed, and more attention was paid to saving adjoining property than to the burning building.

The Cliff house had been closed for some time, as the new lease, John Tait, was remodeling the interior. Workmen were about the place until noon, and then departed for the day. How the fire started is a mystery.

This was the second Cliff house to be destroyed by fire. The building which was burned Saturday was erected about twenty years ago by Adolph Sutro, of Sutro tunnel fame. It was owned by the Sutro estate, and was valued at $50,000. The loss is estimated at $50,000, insurance, $35,000.

The Cliff house was ranked as one of the best known resorts in America. Located on a rocky promontory beyond the Golden Gate, directly above the lashing waves of the Pacific ocean and affording a close view of the seals disporting on the rocks near shore, it was a strong attraction for visitors.

The magnificent Sutro baths near by were not damaged.

IT SPOILS PRETTY ARMS

WOMEN NOW PAYING THE PEN-ALTY FOR WEARING OF SHORT SLEEVES.

BEEN A GREAT FAD THIS SUMMER

Shapely Forearms That Were Once
Free From Hirsute Growth Are Now Rewhiskered and Look Horribly Horrid.

Kansas City young women are startled by the information going the rounds in feminine circles that the wearing of short sleeves causes fuzz to grow upon their arms, says the Kansas City Journal of Sunday. It is said that one summer of short sleeved waists will increase the length of the fuzz upon the arm as much as an eighth of an inch. That there is a scientific basis for this unpleasant result of a pleasing costume is vouched for by Dr. George A. King and by actual experience on the part of the numberless Kansas City society women.

Dr. King says that the reason the almost imperceptible fuzz or down upon the rounded arms of the women who affect the short sleeve habit changes gradually into hair which is long enough to be easily seen, is found by looking into the early history of the race.

"Prehistoric man, and also prehistoric woman, was covered all over with a thick growth of hair, which served as a protection to the skin against the cold in winter and the sun in summer," said Dr. King yesterday.

"When the custom of wearing clothes became general, this growth of hair gradually began to become thinner and thinner, until finally only a downy growth remained. This was because the human race no longer needed the protection afforded by hair."

"Now you can easily see the reason that wearing elbow sleeves has a tendency to cause a growth of hair upon the forearm. Nature provides the growth in order to protect the delicate organism of the skin from the heat of the sun. The more the arms are exposed to the sun, the more likely are they to develop a growth of hair. So it can be seen that the women who have been most anxious to get a fashionable coat of tan on their arms during the summer months are those who are now suffering most from an unwelcome hirsute growth."

Dr. King says that those young women who have been unfortunate enough to receive a coat of nature's clothing upon their arms must be content with it for some time to come.
"The average life of a hair is from two to four years," said he. "I suppose there is little else to do but to wait for these hairs to live their natural life, and then they will die."

"But I can't go to parties or dances in evening clothes with all this ugly hair on my arms," said a young woman who had come in to find out why she was suddenly troubled with a growth of hair on her arms. She confessed she had worn short sleeves for several summers, and each year had always been anxious to get "a good coat of tan."
"Consult a dermatologist," said Dr.
King. "And then pray that next year the style will be long sleeves. I don't suppose even the ugly hair will stop women from wearing short sleeves until fashion takes a hand in the matter."

Occasional headache, belching, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite and slight nervousness are symptoms of indigestion, which, when allowed to go uncorrected, will develop into a case of dyspepsia that will take a long time to get rid of. Don't neglect your stomach. At the first indication of trouble take something that will help it along in its work of digesting the food you eat. Kodol for indigestion and dyspepsia will do this. Kodol will make your food do you good and will enable you to enjoy what you eat. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

HE REGAINS HIS REASON

MAN WHO KILLED HIS WIFE'S SE-DUCER WHILE CONFINED IN PRISON CELL.

WAS IGNORANT OF THE HOMICIDE

Trial as to the Sanity of Fire Chief
Miller, Who Killed Joe Littleler
Will Be Held Tuesday,
September 16.

Franklin, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Almost as quickly as the fitting of a shawl the chaotic condition of the mind of Will Miller, who killed Joe Littleler for the seduction of Mrs. Miller, whom he had induced to elope with him, changed to one of perfect sanity. The veil was lifted from his muddled brain and the real Will Miller assumed the mastery over the demented being, the murderer of his wife's seducter.

If ever a man suffered from what may be called a brainstorm, this man has, was the verdict of the few medical authorities who have visited him since the change.

Shortly after noon Miller awoke while lying upon the cold stone floor of his prison cell. At first he broke into a sweat, for he thought he was buried in a tomb. He looked about him and saw he was in jail. He asked another prisoner where he was and how he came to be there.

All recollection of the occurrences of the last few days was gone. His mind was blank. He talked as rationally as any man and gave not the slightest evidence of knowing anything of his deed, until a fellow prisoner told him of it.

Listening intently to a story of the killing of Joe Littleler he evinced the utmost surprise. He said to a newspaper man:

"I awoke as if from a dream, knowing absolutely nothing of the affair.
I felt the flagging on the floor and thought it was the bottom of a grave.
Then in a second or two I was all right, and now my mind is as clear as a bell. I wondered why I was here. I can't remember anything that happened the past few days, but I guess I've been carrying on pretty badly from what they tell me."

"The last person except my wife I recall having talked to was Marshal Lane, of Franklin. I went to Springfield with him and brought Celia back. We spent Monday evening together very happily. That's the last I remember."

"God knows I'm a good fellow. I'd give my worst enemy a lift if I saw him in trouble. I would not have killed Littleler had I been in my right mind."

Miller told the story leaning back upon his bunk, his face bright and cheerful and his manner calm. The worried look which he has worn was gone. He says he does not recall spending a troublesome night Tuesday morning and on his return saying to Mayor McLane that he was willing for the law to take its course with Littleler.

He says that he had no key to the cell room of the city building and could not imagine how he effected an entrance to the cell where Littleler was confined to answer the charge of adultery. He was only accustomed to being in the building on Thursday nights when the fire company held its meetings. He had not seen his shotgun for almost a year and had forgotten where it was. When questioned as to his renewed relations with his wife he said:

"I was perfectly willing to forgive and forget when I got her back from Springfield. We have had some trouble, it is true, but Celia is very dear to me."

Continuing, he explained the general condition of his health:

"Thorpe Thompson, of Middletown, my partner in the painting and decorating business," he said, "will vouch for the statement that I am frequently taken with these spells. I have suffered a living death with them.
They come on when I am worried.
I want some one to stay in the cell with me, so that my mind will be occupied. Whenever I can concentrate my thoughts I am all right."

Dr. Death, of Franklin, told Miller, he says, that his condition was caused by the blow which he received on his head and which fractured his skull, disconnecting and destroying nerve tissues. He formerly had a fine mind and wrote many speeches, which he delivered at meetings of the Red Men in various parts of the state. He is still a member of that order. He referred to manuscripts which are to be found at his home to prove the clearness of his reason.

The past two nights he spent in a mental storm, grasping at imaginary things and muttering unintelligible words. The physicians were on the point of pronouncing him insane, though a final meeting and examination was to have been held today.

It was expected that a trial as to his sanity would be held in the probate court at Lebanon tomorrow. The officers and every one who has seen Miller seem agreed that if he was feigning insanity he is the smoothest man at the game they have ever met, and if he is falsifying in regard to his recollection he is so skillful that he has never been caught upon any point.
